I - COMPREHENSION

Document 1: I admit it, I'm lonely

1. Read the following sentences about the narrator and her life.
Choose the correct statements and justify them by quoting the text.

b) An empty house was not a problem for her in the past.

I.5: "There was a time when coming back to an empty house would fill me with pleasure."

ou

I.5-7: "I'd luxuriate in the extra, unexpected bonus of having the place to myself, and happily breathe in the peace and quiet."

e) She considers new technology as a religion for people.

I.12-13: "all bowed as though in prayer"

ou

I.13: "worshipping their BlackBerries and iPhones"

ou

I.13-14: "the rosary of the text message"

f) She is ashamed not to be connected to the outside world.

I.15-16: "It's a mark of shame not to have any friends, real or virtual, no followers, not to be linked in to everyone you ever met for five minutes – once – at a party in 1974."

Accepter si la citation s'arrête à "virtual."

i) She wonders if she's not abnormal.

I.18-19: "A silent phone and no one you care to call must mean there's something wrong with you."

j) She feels excluded.

I.19: "You're unpopular, friendless, abandoned, alone. Lonely."

Accepter ligne 8: "it's just lonely."

10 points : 5 x 2 points

Document 2 : Plugged-in: I know what you did last summer

2. Fill in the text with appropriate words.

This text is a press article written by a man who planned to make a trip to Mexico for his summer holiday.

4 points : 4 x 1 point

3. What did the journalist initially imagine doing? Choose the right answers:

c) escaping from technology

f) going on a tech-free trip

4 points : 2 x 2 points

4. Did he really do what he had imagined? (10-15 words)

No, he didn't. He did the opposite. He was unable to disconnect / do without his iPhone. He used it all the time.

6 points

5. In what ways can a smartphone be useful on holiday? Make a list of 4 examples from the text.

Accepter 4 éléments tirés de la liste suivante :

- taxi app to get to the airport on time
- website to find a good restaurant
- using Foursquare, Twitter and Facebook
- sharing photos
- posting status updates
- checking his work email

8 points : 4 x 2 points

SERIE L UNIQUEMENT

6. "Could I survive eight days without technology? Of course." (line 23)
Comment on the irony of this remark. (30-40 words)

This is a lie. In this humorous comment, the journalist actually means that he could not do without technology. He has just convinced himself that new technology can make a holiday easier and more enjoyable for him. He feels reassured and less guilty.

10 points : 5 x 2 points. Bonifier la notion d'humour.

7. The journalist uses 3 expressions: "tech sabbath" (line 1), "unplugged excursion" (line 2), "digital detox" (line 27).

Link these key ideas to express the journalist's initial intentions. (30-40 words)

As he was a tech addict, he felt he had to sever all links with technology and to be weaned off his use of digital devices. He set himself the challenge of spending a week without resorting to any electronic devices. (41 words)

10 points : 5 x 2 points

Documents 1 et 2

TOUS les candidats traiteront cette question.

8. Do both narrators react in the same way to new technology and its progress?
(40-50 words)

No, they react in totally different ways.

The narrator in document 1 seems very preoccupied with her personal problems. She makes little use of new technology and this accentuates her feeling of isolation.

However, the narrator in document 2 is a new technology addict and this enhances his life.
