| | |
|---|---|
| Flight Lieutenant (to Lawrence): | Where did you go last night, Lawrence? |
| Lawrence: | To a place West of London, Sir. |
| Flight Lieutenant: | By bus or by train? |
| Lawrence: | Motorbike, Sir. |
| Flight Lieutenant : | I see. Why did you return late? |
| Lawrence: | I fell off it, Sir. |
| Flight Lieutenant : | Were you drunk? |
| Lawrence: | No, Sir. I only drink water, and I'm rather particular about that, Sir. |
| Flight Lieutenant : | How did you fall off? |
| Lawrence: | I was going through a small village rather fast, but with a good ten minutes in hand, when a dog ran out into the street and I swerved. I was thrown off and I was left with very little motorbike. Then it became necessary to run… |

Consignes de codage

Hypothèse conclusive pertinente et complète ................................................................................. code 1

2 éléments exigés :1. Lawrence est convoqué parce qu'il est arrivé en retard.

         2. Son retard est dû à un accident de la circulation.

Hypothèse conclusive pertinente mais incomplète (Il a été convoqué parce qu'il est en retard.) ................................................................................................................................................ code 2

Hypothèse non pertinente (Il est convoqué parce qu'il a eu un accident.) .............................. code 6

Tout autre réponse .......................................................................................................................... code 9

Aucune réponse ............................................................................................................................... code 0