My name's Superman, I'm an alien superhero. I come from planet Krypton and live on the Earth. My secret identity's Clark Kent. Clark is a shy reporter who lives in the city of Metropolis and works for "The Daily Planet", the city's newspaper. His human friends are his colleagues Lois Lane and Jimmy Olsen. Lois is a journalist too and Jimmy's a photographer. I've got some superpowers: I can fly, I can see through walls, I'm invulnerable to human weapons and I'm extraordinarily fast and strong. My weakness is that I'm vulnerable to green kryptonite, a mineral from my planet. My mission is fighting crime and protecting people, my enemies are criminals like Lex Luthor, a scientist. I don't have a car (I can fly!) and I don't use any special weapons. I wear a blue and red costume with a red cloak and red boots. I don't wear a mask but my alter-ego Clark Kent wears glasses. Nobody can see that we are the same person and that's very strange! My symbol is a red "S"

Batman's a human superhero. He's completely human. His mission is fighting crime. His symbol is a black bat. He wears a grey costume, a black mask, a black cloak and black boots. He lives in the USA, in Gotham City. His real identity is Bruce Wayne. Bruce is a charming billionaire who doesn't need to work every day. He's very brilliant and can invent and use a variety of weapons and tools for fighting crime. He can't fly or see through walls, but he's got excellent acrobatic skills and is very strong and intelligent. He drives the Bat-mobile, a very

and sophisticated car. Here are some of his enemies: Joker, Double Face, The Riddler, Catwoman, Mr Freeze and Poison Ivy. His friends are Alfred, his old butler, and young Robin, an ex circus performer who helps him in his missions.
